

Chapter 15

Local Applications

The Local Applications group contains programs that have been installed on your PC's hard, or C:\, drive. Unlike network applications, local applications are not shared among users on the Banyan LAN. Only you can access the local applications on your PC.

Accessing the Local Applications Group

To access the Local Applications group from Program manager:

1. Double-click on the Local Applications group icon.

Program-item icons appear in the Local Applications group window.